

Free Demonstration of Sunshine Specialties

TODAY--FRIDAY, OCT. 15--is "Sunshine Day" at our store, whether the sun shines or not. We have arranged with the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company to put on a great demonstration of their line of Biscuits, Cakes, etc. Two experts, direct from the great "Sunshine" factory, will be with us and will disseminate samples of the delicious products of the great, white, sun-lighted factory, the largest in the world.

"Sunshine"

You Are Invited.

Bloom & Mitchell

Free! To each of the first two hundred ladies attending this demonstration a small can of St. CHARLES COFFEE will be given. We are sole agents in this territory for this famous old brand.

his family Tuesday for Memphis, and it is said will reside there or return to his former home in Georgia.

Joshua Q. Shaw, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Shaw of this city.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence--this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are exhausted; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers--and will help you. No alcohol.
Scott & Bowne, New York, N. Y.

matriculated this week in the Macon & Andrew Business College, Memphis, and will take the courses of Stenography and Banking.

The Homemakers Club will hold a meeting at the court house on next Saturday, tomorrow, to complete the details of the plans for the exhibit to be held here on the 22nd. All members are requested to be present.

The entire county will be gratified to learn that Rev. R. V. Taylor of Taylor's Chapel has very much improved since he was reported dangerously ill last week. He is one of the oldest and most loved men in the county.

Miss Nell Higgins who was compelled on account of sickness to come home from Rome, Georgia, where she had matriculated for the school year, has sufficiently recovered to re-enter school and left this week for Memphis where she will enter St. Agnes school.

On last Monday Gov. Rye issued the third reprieve for Henry Roberts under sentence of death for the murder of David Dobbins last January in the fifteenth district of this county. The reprieve assures Roberts of life until Nov.
16, or a little more than another month.

J. E. Boswell who has been in Chicago with Mrs. Boswell has returned to his home in this city and reports Mrs. Boswell doing nicely since her recent operation performed in that city. He expects that she will be able to return to her home here about the end of the present year.

Hudson Morrow, colored, who lived a long life in the fifteenth district of this county died at his home there on October 6th, at the advanced age of 81 years. He was born in Georgia in 1841, joined the Methodist church fifty years ago. He leaves a wife, five sons and two daughters. "C"

Two bales of staple cotton grown near this city were marketed here last Friday and brought 18 cts. per pound.
It is said the yield per acre is as good as of the short cotton usually grown here and with the better price per pound it would seem that there should be much more of it grown locally than there is.

W. S. Lee, Joe Mann and Ike J. Fel-senhall of Brownsville were among local business men Monday in the interest of the Haywood County Fair which is in progress in Brownsville this week.
A number of Fayette county people are attending and several horses from this county are participating in the races scheduled for the week.

Citizens will regret the blowing down last Thursday night of the large oak tree which has stood watch near the entrance to the local cemetery for so many years. It was the tree nearest the main entrance just to the left as you enter and near the top of the hill.
It was a beautiful tree and its loss cannot be restored in ages.

Bedford Forrest Lodge 52 K. of P. has rented the third floor of the Fayette Co. Bank and the same is being fitted up for a lodge room to be occupied by them in the near future. Fred Goosmann the K. R. S. while at Cincinnati, Ohio, purchased a new set of paraphernalia and furniture for the new hall and the lodge expects to be ready for work in about two weeks.

A full attendance of the members of the Methodist church is requested for the morning service next Sunday at the church in Somerville. At that hour it is proposed to decide for life or death the matter of building the new church. An expression is desired from every member of the church, and we trust all will be present. C. W. Crawford, Chmn. Board of Stewards.

There will be public speaking at the court house tonight (Friday) in the interest of Woman Suffrage. Mrs. Alex Y. Scott, Mrs. Isaac Reese and Mrs. A.
B. Pittman of Memphis and Mrs. Walter C. Jackson of Murfreesboro, representing the Equal Suffrage League of this state will be the speakers. The public is cordially invited to be present. There will be no charge for admission.

The best lot of sweet potatoes of the present year's crop seen in town were grown by J. W. Stegall who bought last year the Woods place a mile from this city. They were Nancy Halls and the largest of the basket full weighed around six pounds. A. S. Thompson of Laconia vicinity tells us he will have about two thousand bushels when he digs his crop, his being the largest crop in the county.

H. S. Shaw, cashier of the Somerville Bank & Trust Co. has purchased from Hon. J. H. Dortch the building on the west side of the public square in this city next door to the bank and which is now occupied by Bloom & Mitchell's Grocery and meat market.
Mr. Shaw, so The Falcon understands, bought the property as an investment and will at an early date remodel the building and put in a first class condition.

Winston Harris, the concrete man, is busy with a force of hands this week building a concrete walk on Depot street from the Southern Railway west along the Episcopal Rectory property to the west side of Somerville street at the corner of the Scruggs property. This walk will take the place of the brick one that has been there for many years and has been troublesome because of the constant sloughing of the high bank on which it was built. The new walk will be a welcome improvement to those who use that street.

John W. Russell and his wife have arrived from their former home at Wynne, Arkansas, and are now living in the Rhea cottage on Market street west of J. N. Pulliam. Mr. Russell has leased the old post office building from W. A. Rhea and will install in a few days a bottling plant for bottling soft drinks. The new business will be a strictly manufacturing and wholesale business and when the business is thoroughly organized will give employment to five or six men. The Falcon is glad to have Mr. Russell locate here.

While in Oakland recently we noticed in local stores there some extra fine apples and enquired about them. It was learned that the apples were raised by Arthur Smith, whose name has been seen before along with the list of progressive and successful farmers of that community. No better apples are seen in any store in the county than were those, and it is gratifying to see a local grower produce such apples.
Many bushels were marketed in Somerville recently by a grower near Fayette Corner, but the successful Fayette county orchard is scarce and when we do find one it is to congratulate its owner.

The Falcon has received a copy of a pamphlet recently issued by the N. C.
& St. L. Ry. Industrial department on "Reclaiming Gullied Lands of West Tennessee." It is almost strictly a Fayette county document. It shows by illustration and description how J.
P. Matthews, J. N. Clay, W. N. Mc-Fadden and others have taken gullied lands and made them productive and fertile. These are among the most progressive farmers of the county and own large farms about Oakland. The pamphlet is both interesting and instructive and one should be in the hands of every citizen of the county who has gullied lands. It is free. Write L. P.
Bellah, Nashville, Tenn., for a copy.

Advice has been received here from George R. James of the farm development bureau of the Memphis B. M. C. that there will be a delegation from that club at the Fair here on the 22nd.
Representatives of the club were in this city on last Tuesday in an effort to interest business men in exploiting better farming and crop diversification.
The Memphis B. M. C. is entering upon one of the most active campaigns for encouraging improvement and development along agricultural lines that has ever been undertaken by the business men of any city in the country and Somerville and Fayette county are fortunate to have the active co-operation of this body of earnest workers in encouraging her people to better their own condition.

Richard N. Crane, Poultry Expert from the department of Agriculture, with headquarters at the University of Tennessee, made an official visit to Somerville last week with the intention of meeting a few poultrymen and getting started toward the organization of the poultry work in this county. He has informed The Falcon that he will return to this city on the occasion of the Farmers institute exhibit which will be held on the 22nd, and will address the meeting here on the subject of poultry raising and marketing. He proposes to organize thoroly the poultry growers of the county and interest others who are not so active now, to the end that they become growers. He is not after the fancy side of poultry growing, but the practical, the utility side. His talk alone should draw hundreds of visitors here, and it will certainly be worth coming to hear.

An interesting meeting was held Tuesday at the court house in this city in which a delegation of Memphis business men and local business men participated. Those present from Memphis were C. A. Gerber, W. W. Wessel, James Alexander and Albert Mancinni.
They represented the farm development bureau of the B. M. C. of that city and were here to ascertain from our people whether it was desired to have this county participate in the campaign soon to be waged by the bureau for better farming. The local business men joined cordially in the movement as suggested and guaranteed to raise the sum necessary to finance the campaign in Fayette county. This sum will likely be about $75 to $100 and it will be raised by subscription, local citizens guaranteeing that this will be done.

Two other representatives of the bureau will visit the county at an early date and make maps, charts, etc., of the county and complete the details of the work to be done. The plans propose reaching every nook and corner of the county and every place will be visited, addresses made and literature distributed. The movement is certainly destined to bring much good to the Memphis territory of which this county is a part.
